Expanding Horizons: Remitly’s Seafarers Product Launches Across Europe, the UK, Australia, and Singapore

Posted on October 31, 2024 by Tatiana Wheeler-Brown

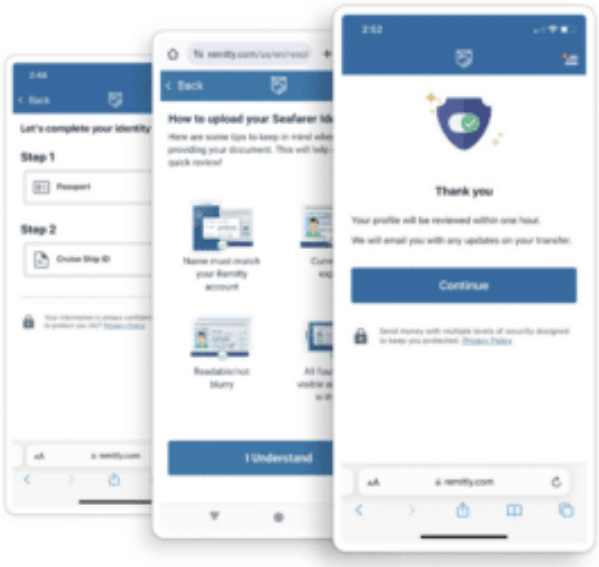
We’re excited to announce that we have now expanded our seafarers product experience to the European Union, United Kingdom, Australia, and Singapore. With this launch, we hope to bring even more seafarers the reliable, secure, and convenient money transfer service they deserve—no matter where their journey takes them.

By expanding into new countries, we’re reaffirming our pursuit to enhance the seafarer experience by offering seafarers in more regions the ability to stay connected with the people they care about most.

Seafarers and cruise ship workers working for companies based out of the new regions will experience:

- User-Friendly Interface – Simplified onboarding process tailored for seafarers, ensuring easy sign-up and navigation.

- Competitive Rates and Fees: Ensuring you get more value for your money when sending it home.
- Convenient and Secure Transfers: Have peace of mind with convenient, quick and reliable transactions.
- 24/7 Customer Support: Fast and friendly support for you and your loved ones.



This is an important milestone for Remitly as we continue to grow our product offerings and expand our global footprint. By expanding our services for seafarers and providing services that directly benefit our customers, we're ensuring that Remitly remains at the forefront of innovation in the remittance industry.

Stay tuned for more updates in the Remitly Newsroom as we continue to grow, innovate, and serve customers around the globe.

To all the seafarers out there: thank you for everything you do. We're here to support you—today, tomorrow, and always.
